Grad Meeting
Thursday, May 11, 2017 @
Lunch – ALL GRADE 12s must attend!

Congratulations Grace Lew!

For the past few months, Grace Lew has been participating in a youth group called Climate Action 150, put on by a national climate group called GreenLearning. The project has brought together close to 30 schools from across the country through interactive meetings through webspaces to explore and share actions they all are taking to help combat climate change through the reductions of emissions. Through her participation in this group, she was selected by GreenLearning to go to Ottawa to be part of a national, 10 person writing team who will be preparing a youth report/paper to present to the Minister of Environment and Climate Change. They are meeting in Ottawa in May.

Grad Meeting

There will be a grad meeting on Thursday, May 11, 2017 at lunch. We will be discussing speeches and tickets. All Grade 12 students should attend.

Important Message about Art Supplies

Ms. Ogston is happy to lend out pencils, rulers, erasers, sharpies and paper to students not currently enrolled in the art program. HOWEVER, she has been noticing that many of these items have not been returned after being used and is tired of trying to either replace them or track them down. If you want to use art room supplies for other subjects, please be courteous and return anything you've borrowed. Also, you may work in the art room on other class projects but please clean up after yourselves (ie. Tidy up any paper you might have cut using the paper cutter, clean out any paintbrushes, throw away any garbage). Thanks!

National Paramedic Services Week

May 28 – June 3, 2017 is “National Paramedic Services Week” – EMS celebratory week across Canada. We've been asked to have students create a large thank you poster for the 9-1-1 Dispatch center, which would be presented to them, on behalf of NSS, during that week.

It is a great partnership opportunity for our school and in the eyes of the public (EMS would share it on social media), and a genuinely nice thing to do for Calgary's EMS practitioners. Any interested students are asked to speak to Ms. Ogston immediately as the banner needs to be completed by May 23rd.

Social Action Project

On May 24 and 25, students will be selling popsicles and freezies at lunch. All proceeds go towards the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society of Canada.
